

INDEX

Presentation by Edoardo Teodoro Brioschi	XIII
INTRODUCTION by Edoardo Teodoro Brioschi
1. Total business communication: concept, problems and potentialities	XVII
2. Total business communication: innovations and limits	XXVII
3. Total business communication: potential and complexity	XXXI
4. The pivotal problem: the objectives of total communication	XXXIV
5. The budget of total communication: setting and allocation	XXXIX
6. A closer look at these problems at an international level	XLIV
7. The business communicator: situation and evolution	LV
CHAPTER I. The framework
1. The demand is changing: the supply, particularly for multinational companies, must change as well (Remo Lucchi)	3
2. The geopolitical and institutional analysis: influence on the business communication strategies (Raffaello Matarazzo)	23
3. Framing country culture and communicating across cultures (Silvia Biraghi, Rossella C. Gambetti, Mia R. Tassone)	28
CHAPTER II. The international businesses and their approaches to communication
1. An overview of International Communication (Andrea Concato)	51
2. The FMCG brand building mosaic (Anne van Merkensteijn)	75
3. The automotive industry: three approaches to communication management (Massimo Nordio)	91

4. UniCredit: our journey to create a European leading banking brand (Silvio Santini, Silvia Pizzetti)	106
CHAPTER III. The budget setting and media planning
1. The budget setting (Massimo Borio)	141
2. The international media landscape (Attilio Redivo)	150
3. The media strategy and planning in the international context (Attilio Redivo)	154
4. The evolution of media/creativity relationships (Attilio Redivo)	166
5. The analysis and planning of the new communication channels (Federico Rampolla)	170
CHAPTER IV. The research
1. The research about international communication (Roberto Rossi)	179
2. The evaluation of international brands: BrandZ Top100 and the meaningfully different framework (Roberto Rossi)	190
3. Culture and advertising research (Gordon E. Miracle)	201
4. Using the translation/back translation technique in international marketing research (Gordon E. Miracle)	209
CHAPTER V. The international communication: the state of art
1. A global overview about the communication/ advertising markets in 2013 (Alberto Dal Sasso)	225
The worldwide communication: problems and figures	239
CHINA
2. A thinking of mirror image of advertising in China's social development (Dongsheng Li)	240
3. Advertising in China: brief history, ecosystem and problems (Jin Kang, Junjie Ding)	248
4. 2013 Beijing advertising industry development report (Beijing Administration for Industry and Commerce)	252
5. New media education in China (Che Ma, Hairong Li)	275
JAPAN
6. Broadening the concept of advertising. Japanese advertising (Koukoku) on holistic approach (Yasuhiko Kobayashi)	282
7. The Sei-katsu-sha: a holistic approach to consumer (Hakuhodo Institute of Life and Living)	295
MIDDLE EAST AND AFRICA

INDEX	XI
8. The advertising industry in the Middle East and Africa (Faris Abouhamad)	301
LATIN AMERICA
9. Latin America: 2013-2014 Report (Ricardo de La Blanca Brigati)	305
Appendixes
1. The American Academy of Advertising (AAA)	319
2. The International Advertising Association (IAA)	323
Bibliography	329
List of contributors	341